Keywords: Anti-Corruption Value, Macapat Song.

The anti-corruption value approach aims to overcome and reduce the prevalence of corruption as a whole, by encouraging the next generation to firmly reject all types of corruption. The success of eradicating corruption will be more effective if we deliberately train future generations to have the skills to recognize and criticize the negative aspects of the value system passed on to them, and encourage them to replace them with values that are more in line with current situations and demands. In the world of education, "eradicating corruption to its roots" refers to a series of efforts to create a generation that will neither accept nor tolerate acts of corruption in any form.

The research used is planting anti-corruption values in the collection of Macapat songs, as a strategy for preventing corruption, which aims to find out the meaning implied in macapat songs, as a representation of anti-corruption values which will later be explained about the importance of instilling anti-corruption values in macapat songs for the younger generation. .

The results of this study provide the view that the anti-corruption values contained in the macapat script illustrate for us to always be honest, obey the rules, work together and never give up with the aim of preventing acts of corruption, because corrupt behavior is caused by a lack of awareness and embedded dishonesty. in a person.
