

ABSTRACT

Amiyati, 2019 “Symptoms of Indonesian Abreviation in Speech of STKIP PGRI Sumenep Students”.

Keywords : symptoms of abbreviation, Indonesian, speech

This study aims to describe the symptoms of Indonesia language abreviation that appear in the speech of STKIP PGRI Sumenep students. Regarding the type, original form, and meaning of Indonesian language abreviation spoken by STKIP PGRI Sumenep students.

This study uses a qualitative approach that describes the findings by describing the data obtained in the field. The data source was obtained from the speech of STKIP PGRI Sumenep students in the form of speech that contained Indonesian language abreviation. This data collection method uses the listening method and proficient method. By categorizing the types of abreviations. Presenting data and interpreting data.

The results showed that the Indonesian abreviations spoken by STKIP PGRI Sumenep students consisted of 4 type, 3 form of origin, and meaning of each language, you must first know the abbreviated form, both from the word or phrase in the abbreviated language when spoken. There are 17 data abreviation type of abreviations, 2 type of acronyms, 9 type of contraction, 2 types of cuttings.

Therefore, in this study, apart from describing the types of abreviations which consist of abreviations, fragments, acronyms, contractions, will also describe the original form and meaning of the Indonesian abreviation language when spoken by STKIP PGRI Sumenep students.