

ABSTRACT

Ayunda, Dwi. 2020. "Teachers' Efforts To Overcome The Low Reading Interest Of Students In Grade I And II During The Covid-19 Pandemic At SDN Beluk Kenek 1 Ambunten-Sumenep".

Keywords: interest in reading, factors, and teacher efforts.

This study aims to describe the efforts of teachers to overcome the reading interest of students in grades I and II during the covid-19 pandemic at SDN Beluk Kenek 1. This study uses qualitative research with a descriptive approach. Sources of data obtained from the principal, class teachers, students in grades I and II, and also the students' parents. Data collection techniques used are observation, interviews, and also documentation. Data analysis by reducing data, presenting data, and drawing conclusions.

The results showed that the teacher's efforts to overcome the low student interest in reading had been carried out well. This effort was not only carried out by the class teacher, even the principal and also parents at home also made efforts to overcome the low interest in reading caused by several factors, namely the lack of book resources provided by the school and also the environment both within the school environment and outside the school environment with various efforts including, providing motivation and encouragement and facilitating students with reading books while at home.