ABSTRACT

The development of futsal extracurricular at SMK Negeri I Kalianget for the last few years has not been good. As for the achievements over the last few years, they have never won an inter-school tournament held in the Sumenep Regency while the Cup was held in TSI Batu District, which happened to be the researcher doing PPL 2 at SMK Negeri 1 Kalianget, who at that time was a companion of the team representative. futsal SMK Negeri 1 Kalianget, arudam cup, and regent cup were only able to survive in the top 8 and the big 16. . one of the factors causing this is that the shooting skills of the players are still not maximized, it is because players pay less attention to shooting techniques and principles that every player must have.

In accordance with the problem, the researcher uses the R and D (Research and Development) type of development, IN this RESEARCH the development carried out by the researcher consists of 1 to 7 steps, namely data collection (observations and interviews), product design, expert design validation, small group trials, small group product revisions, large group trials, large group product revisions, final product revisions, shooting practice final products.

After undergoing expert review, evaluation and field trials, this development product underwent several revisions as stated. The final product of this development is a shooting practice model. In the futsal game for futsal extracurricular participants at SMK Negeri 1 Kalianget in the form of a shooting practice guide video.
